ROBBERS OF BROWN STORES CAPTURED BY SHERIFF NEU

Instruments With Which Thieves Forced Entrance To Stores Found On Prisoners Taken By Neighbor Sheriff.

Georgetown, Ohio, March 4.—Tho two men Sheriff Neu and Deputy John Earl Neu placed under arrest at the edge of Winchester, about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, were making an effort to reach an alley in hopes of making their escape. They had left the Winchester-Sardina pike and were on what is better known as the old fair grounds. The officers had made several commands for them to stop. Then Sheriff Neu fired his revolver, the larger man stating that the bullet struck in the ground near them and he and his companion thought it was time to surrender.

They were placed in the automobile and brought to Georgetown, where they were locked in the county jail.

The night before seven business places at Sardina had been broken into and robbed. Tuesday morning, when Charles Jacobs, entering his store, found his stock had been ruined, the cash register wrecked and what it contained stolen, he gave the alarm and then the discovery was made that other places had been robbed. It was found that all the doors had been forced by the use of an instrument, which later was found upon the men. It proved to be a chisel and a short piece of piping, which had worked without failure.

A conductor upon an N. & W. freight train gave a tip that he had seen two men a short distance out of Sardina upon the Winchester pike and going in that direction. Jacobs sent word to Sheriff Neu and he and his deputy, upon reaching Sardina, lost no time in taking the trail, with the results stated above.

SHERIFF WARNS ALL DOG OWNERS WHO HAVEN'T PAID TAXES

Representative of Agricultural Department here and Sheriff Galt breath issues warning to delinquents.

In the report of the County Clerk, J. J. Owens, to the Agricultural Department relative to the collection of the dog tax, this report shows quite a falling off in taxes this year from the two years preceding, and in said report was recommended by the Clerk that the State Department take it up with the three papers here and urge the owners of dogs to come in and pay their license.

In reply to that communication the State Department sent one of their field men here to look into the matter and see why the owners of dogs had not paid their license, and for the above reason forced the Sheriff to issue the following notice to all owners of dogs that have not paid their license fee on their dogs, which will not only be published in the county press but will also be posted in public places in the county:

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

A representative of the State Department has been to see me in regard to the enforcement of the Dog Tax Law in this country.

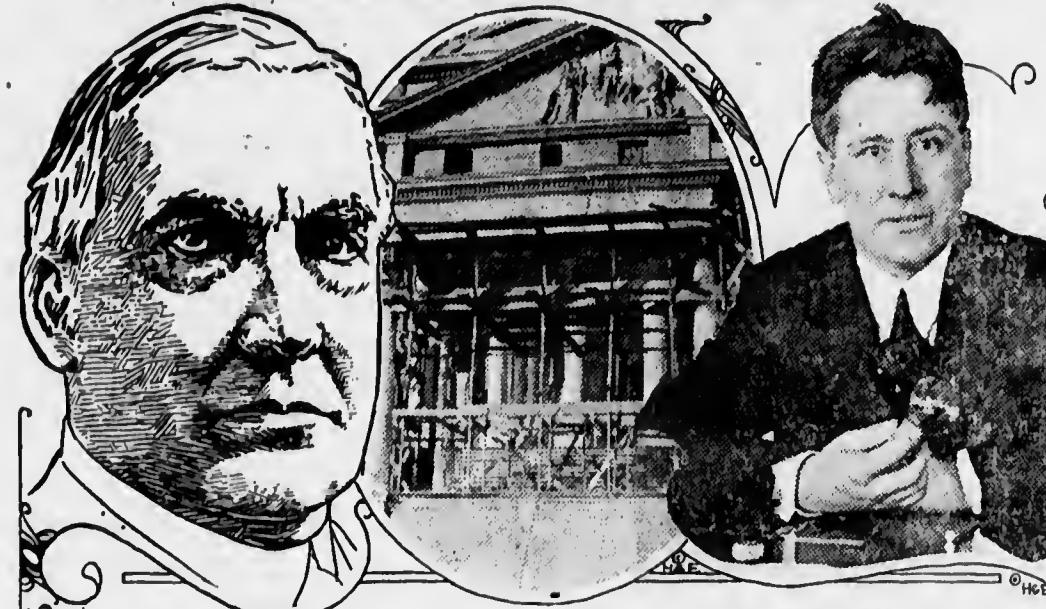

You are hereby commanded to have your dog licensed immediately, as the time is now past due and the law compels me to see that this is done with the penalty of forfeiture of my office, so I will be compelled to have a man in every precinct to see after the licensing of dogs and all those that have not had their dogs licensed will be reported and will be prosecuted according to law, which penalty is $100 fine and three months imprisonment, one or both to all owners of dogs having no license.

You can apply to the County Court Clerk in person or send by mail the breed sex, age and color of your dog, with the accompanying fee of $1 for the first male dog and $2 for each additional male dog, and $1 for each female dog, and $4 for each additional female dog, and there is no limit to the age of the dog, as the ruling of the Attorney General is that a dog is a dog as soon as it is whelped.

It will be the duty of the grand jury to investigate all violators of the dog law, so have your dog licensed immediately and avoid trouble.

C. E. GALBREATH,
Sheriff Mason County.

INVENTIVE SCIENCE HELPS HARDING INAUGURAL ADDRESS

The inaugural crowd which President Harding faced could hear his message perhaps better than at any inaugural stand—shown under construction here—which made the address plainly audible to every person in the crowd, no matter if they were thousands of feet away. On the right is G. L. Wells, engineer, holding one of the amplifiers, the greatest "loud talker" yet invented, and which it is claimed intensifies sound one thousand billion billion times.

BUSTER BROWN AND TIGE HERE FOR TOMORROW

Special Entertainment to be Given on Street for the Kiddies—Reception At Merz Brothers:

The famous Buster Brown and his equally famous dog, Tige, will be in Maysville tomorrow for the entertainment of the kiddies of this section and incidentally to explain the merits of the famous Buster Brown shoes, which are sold exclusively in this district by Merz Brothers.

Special arrangements have been made so that every boy and girl in Mason and adjoining counties can see Buster and Tige and enjoy their clever antics and a platform will be constructed in Market street in front of the Merz Brothers' shoe store upon which they will entertain the crowd. They will also hold a reception at the Merz Brothers' store and the Boys' Band will make music for them. Preceding the entertainment in Market street at 2 o'clock Buster, Tige and the band will parade the down-town section.

There's not a boy or girl in Maysville or the county who can afford to miss this opportunity of seeing Buster and Tige in life. The parade will start about 1:30 Saturday afternoon so be certain to be on time to see and hear it all.

"Our eyes never will be blind to a developing menace, our ears never deaf to the call of civilization," he said.

"There was no American failure to resist the attempted reversion of civilization; there will be no failure today or tomorrow," Harding added.

"We shall give no people just cause to make war upon us," he said at another point. "We hold no national prejudices, we entertain no spirit of revenge, we do not hate, we do not covet, we dream of no conquest, nor boast of armed prowess."

"If, despite this attitude, war is forced upon us, I earnestly hope a way may be found which will unify our individual and collective strength, and consecrate all America, materially and spiritually, body and soul, to national defense."

"I can vision the ideal republic, where every man and woman is called under the flag for assignment of duty for whatever service, military or civil, the individual is best fitted; where we may call to universal service every plant, agency or facility, all in the sublime sacrifice for country, and not one penny of war profit shall accrue to the benefit of private individual, corporation or combination, but all above the normal shall flow into the defense chest of the nation."

The League of Nations was not mentioned, but schemes of "super-government" were denounced unsparingly.

In the County Court this afternoon the inventory and appraisement of the personal estate of James C. Owens, deceased, was filed.

The newly elected Mason County Board of Education will hold its first meeting and organize at the office of County Superintendent George H. Turpin Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The most important business to be transacted is the organizing of the board and the electing of a County Superintendent.

Hospital Sues to Prevent City Collecting Taxes

Hayswood Hospital Asks Perpetual Injunction Against City Preventing Them From Levying or Collecting Taxes on Property.

Suit was brought in the Mason Circuit Court this afternoon by the Hayswood Hospital against the City of Maysville, Ky., and A. M. January, Collector and Treasurer of the City of Maysville, in an attempt to prevent the city from collecting taxes upon the hospital's city property.

The petition in the case was drawn by Worthington, Coehran, Browning & Reed cover several typewritten pages and after naming the various bequests and donations made to the hospital which made it possible for it to be established, the petition says:

"The receipts from patients at plaintiff's hospital have never been sufficient to defray the expenses thereof and to keep up and maintain the hospital, nor is it purpose of plaintiff ever to make it a paying institution. Plaintiff has kept the property, except the hospital building, so given it, after paying for needed improvements and repairs, invented so as to yield an income, to be applied to the making up of the deficiency in its necessary running expenses; in other words as an endowment fund. This fund amounted on August 28th, 1920, to the sum of $35,175.41."

The petition further states:

"This plaintiff is by virtue of its charter, an institution of purely public charity, and the funds and property above mentioned are held and owned by it for purposes which constitute a purely public charity, and are therefore exempt from taxation by under and by virtue of section 170 of the Constitution of Kentucky. This has been expressly so adjudged by this court and by the Court of Appeals of Kentucky in the suit brought by plaintiff against the authorities of Mason county and their officers and agents be permanently enjoined from taking any steps hereafter towards listing or assessing or levying, or selling any portion of plaintiff's property for taxation, and it prays for its costs herein and for all proper relief."

GREAT RAILROAD MAN PASSES.

In the death of Mr. Milton H. Smith there has been removed one of the great figures in the railway world, a survival from the period when there were giants in the land. Mr. Smith, dying at the ripe age of eighty-four, fell, like a mighty redwood among the trees of a new geological era, and left a wide void which will not soon be filled.

He was the peer in breadth of thought, in clearness of vision, in boldness of imagination, inflexibility of purpose and scope of his plans of his great contemporaries, Harriman and Hill. They were all men who compare favorably with any of the pioneers and empire-builders of modern times, and were as adventurous and commanding as Cortez and Pizarro.

They had prophetic instincts. They visualized the growth of commonwealths and the rise of cities and the marvelous expansion of trade and commerce. They spread their network of rails across waste places, into sparsely populated regions, through forests unbroken and mountains grim and forbidding, to tap the potential riches of an undeveloped country.

No great leader of the South has done more to stimulate its rapid progress from a state of stagnation and depression which succeeded the Civil War, than the man who, through a long life, guided the steady unfolding of the L. & N. system, which became, under his management, the main artery in the commercial development of the vast region which is today richer than the entire Union was in 1861.

Mr. Smith, as a business man, was of a tough and tenacious fibre. He was hard, aggressive, and even violent in pushing forward the schemes which were born and incubated in his fertile brain. Perhaps such characteristics were essential to success in the period in which his pioneering work was done. He was compelled to cope with many strong and unscrupulous men and forces, and any yielding on his part might have negatived all his efforts. But he had, when the office door closed behind him, a soft and winning side which his family and friends loved, and which bound them to him with hooks of steel.

His plans were large, his motives right, his success phenomenal, and he has left as his monument a great transportation system which is as necessary to the life of the South commercially as the church is religiously.

The people of Kentucky, in particular, owe a debt of gratitude to his memory. He seemed to take a peculiar interest and pride in pushing the rails back into the undeveloped regions of the state, tapping its vast mineral deposits, and bringing new life, prosperity and opportunity to the people of the mountains, so long cut off from the current of modern progress, without educational advantages or the conveniences and comforts which only railway extension could endow them with.

His name will always be associated with the era of expansion which is now in full tide in Eastern Kentucky, and which is changing so rapidly the character of that vast region whence the highest type of Americanism is to emerge.

FIFTY YEARS TO REORGANIZE.

There is no need for hurry on the part of the Democrats in bringing about a reorganization of their scattered forces. No matter how perfectly their ranks might be aligned they could accomplish nothing in the face of the Republican sentiment that now dominates the country. The outrageous record of their party in the last eight years of misrule must be lived down, and the people must be given a chance to forget, before the voting strength of Democracy will command any serious attention. Meanwhile Republicans are not going to let the grass grow under their feet. On March 4th the party starts on a campaign of achievement under the leadership of Mr. Harding, that will win the confidence of the people and continue their control of national affairs for many years in the future.

NEW YORK BILL FORCES WIFE TO SUPPORT MATE.
Threat to "Go Home to Mother" Is Felony Under Terms of New Measure.

Albany, N. Y., March 3. — Virtually every state in the Union has made it a law that a man must support his wife. New York state, however, is the first to attempt legislation that will require a woman to support her husband.

In a bill introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman Edward Everett, St. Lawrence, this provision is made, and he adds, "It's a good bill."

Mr. Everett would make it a felony for any wife to abandon her husband or even threaten to run away and leave him. No more threats of "I'll go home to mother" if it passes.

The bill, which is in the shape of an amendment to the criminal code and the domestic relations law, provides that a wife who has once assumed the obligation of supporting her husband shall retain that duty till "death do them part."

If she has sufficient of worldly goods the burden of support is to fall on her in any event under terms of the bill.

WILSON MEANT WELL BUT READ HIS RECORD

His Promises and Accomplishments Found on Opposite Sides of Ledger By Congress,

Washington. — With the retirement of Woodrow Wilson into private life many members of Congress are forecasting the historian by estimating his achievements.

To his discredit they declare that he promised in 1912 to reduce the cost of living to the market basket of the common man and during his administration saw it more than double.

Promised to usher in the "new democracy" and became more autocratic and aristocratic than any former President.

Promised labor in the Clayton act not to use the injunction against it as often did so through the Lever act.

Promised to keep the country out of war after holding the belief, expressed by a Senate committee, that we could not keep out of it.

Promised to bring about freedom of the seas as then approved a disarmament plan which would leave England in control of it.

Promised open covenants openly arrived at and then secretly permitted Belgium to pay her debt to the United States in German bonds.

Promised self-determination for all peoples and then agreed to Japanese suzerainty over Shantung.

Promised any higher price for wheat than $2.26 and permitted cotton to soar to the limit.

Assisted Great Britain in putting over a League of Nations scheme for the maintenance of the boundaries of empires in perpetuity.

Asked for the placing in his hands of a blanket appropriation of $150,000,000 for war purposes.

And Saturday Afternoon and Evening at the Gem. Admission 20c and 30c

New York. — Back in the days when the gold brick was in its prime, the cartoonists of New York and other population centers had a very merry time depicting the straits of the innocent outlander who came on a visit to the big city and exchanged good village money for a handsome package of lead or papers. Never was it admitted or even dreamed that a New Yorker himself could fail to penetrate the miles of the con man. But here in this over-sophisticated year off 1921, a New York woman has had a man arrested for selling her a restaurant while he never existed and never expects to exist. His method was the simple one of advertising a restaurant for sale, at 108 West 40th street. Whereupon Miss Hilda Stranahan read the ad., took her little $3,000 and paid it to the "Broker," Edward Jonas. Fortieth street being a pretty central, convenient place to walk to, Miss Stranahan took time afterwards to stroll around to see her property. It was then she discovered that the hole in the doughnut has nothing whatever on the address she had bought, so far as restaurant occupancy is concerned.

Letters are now being taken from this country to Berlin and other points in the Rhine district of Germany by steamer plus airplane. The steamship Mount Clay, which left New York the other day, inaugurates the service. The steamer will take the mail to Cuxhaven, and there it will be transferred to the German hanger and taken on its way by plane.

The foreign trade of the United States last year broke all records, according to O. K. Davis, Secretary of the National Foreign Trade Council. Our exports amounted to more than $8,000,000,000, and our imports to more than $5,000,000,000. "The rapid change drop from a period of apparently unlimited prosperity in our home market."

ACT QUICKLY

In time of kidney danger, Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective. Ask your neighbor.

Plenty of Maysville evidence of their worth.

Fred Dresel, proprietor tailor shop, 1238 East Second street, Maysville, says: "I am glad of the opportunity to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled with inflammation of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. When passing the secretions they burned terribly and often bordered on a stoppage. I had severe aching pains across the small of my back which greatly interfered with my duties. I was telling a friend how my kidneys acted and he advised me to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Wood & Son's Drug Store. I began taking Doan's and they gave me prompt relief. Doan's did me lots of good and I know they are an excellent remedy."

Mrs. Dresel gave the above statement February 6, 1908, and on November 22, 1920, he added: "I think just as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did when I gave my former recommendation many years ago. My cure has been a lasting one."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pill—the same that Mr. Dresel had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

kets has not been without its beneficial results," said Mr. Davis. "It has brought home to the American people in a striking manner the value of foreign markets and the national service of foreign trade. International trade conditions will improve in 1921 if there is a clear understanding and honest recognition of fundamental economic conditions and the meeting of those conditions by American producers and traders generally. This is one reason it is of such importance to have a big attendance at our convention in Cleveland next May. We are going to get right down then, to what we can do to meet these conditions and to meet them as quickly as possible."

February, usually a passive, uneventful month in theatrical producing circles, this year saw eleven new productions before its 28th day. And nothing but a lack of theaters limits the first nights to eleven. In spite of this shortage of buildings, several legitimate theaters on Broadway will be given over within the next few weeks to moving pictures. Some of the pictures to move into these new homes of the film are decidedly elaborate affairs and, so to speak, "high-brow" affairs. "The Four Horsemen of Apocalypse," "The Queen of Sheba" and a screen version of Mark Twain's "Connecticut Yankee" are among them.

A seeming ease for the psychologist exists in the killing of a police detective by Charles T. Davis. The neighbors and tradesmen, even the Italian boy who shined his shoes, out in the district of his Brooklyn home, are stunned by the fact that "our Mr. Davis," as he was to the whole neighborhood, is the prosperous business man who coldly shot down a detective who came to his office to inquire about a stolen automobile. They have tried to figure out how it could happen, but they just fall back on shaking their heads and saying, "OUR Mr. Davis! He never could have done anything wrong." But Davis himself called his lawyer immediately after the shooting and told what he had done, coolly and concisely.

These first days of the visit here of Ignacio Jan Paderewski have been sad ones for his friends and devotees, and must have been so to the musician himself. For he has made his position definite as regards his abandonment of the concert stage. "I will not play again," he has stated. "Compose? Possibly, but never play." Since May 9, 1917, he has not touched the piano even for his own pleasure. His every other interest has been given over for his work for Poland. "Yes, I felt the sacrifice of my art keenly," he said. "For years I lived in an atmosphere of dreams. It was hard to emerge into a world of cold facts. But I believe that art must always be secondary to patriotism."

SILK WEEK IS CELEBRATED BY MERCHANTS HERE
Local Stores and Shops Offer Special Bargains in Silk Goods This Week in Nation Wide Celebration.

In celebration of the four thousand five hundred and sixty-first anniversary of the discovery of silk by the Chinese Empress Si-Ling-chi in 2640 B. C., National Silk Week was inaugurated here this week. Local merchants, from department store proprietors to the owners of the smaller individual shops that handle merchandise in which silk is used in production, are featuring silk and silk products for the entire week. Not only here but throughout the entire country this idea is being carried out. In China at a specified time each year, the Chinese commemorate the memory of Si-Ling-chi who is known as the "Godess of the Silkworm." The ceremonies are extremely picturesque and quaint in China but in the practical United States the form assumes a distinctly commercial aspect which is however enlivened by the delight of women—a styles show.

Man yo fibe latest American styles creations shown at the recent International Silk Exposition in New York will be shown here in replica either as window displays or upon the forms of beautiful girl models. It will be the first public showing of these styles outside of New York and gives National Silk Week much the aspect of a spring style salon.

Local merchants anticipate that this silk week will give a remarkable impetus to the spring and summer buying season and have laid their plans accordingly to afford their customers the best possible opportunity to see all that is new in everything into the manufacture of which silk enters, which means a very wide range of articles for men as well as for women. One big department store in New York varied uses to which the fabric and its four druh silk had to be feature in forty of its divisions because of the products are put.

From the time when in Rome silk sold for its actual weight in gold and was worn only by royalty, to today when it is with the reach of the average person as to price and is universally worn, is a long jump but has been accomplished through the ingenuity of American manufacturers who have succeeded in so perfecting process of production that silk is now an economy instead of an extravagance as it was first considered.

The United States leads the world in the manufacture of silk with an annual output of approximately $715,000,000, buying seventy per cent of the raw silk produced in the Orient and Italy and producing every conceivable article in which silk can be advantageously used.

It is doubtful if there has ever been in this city a better rounded display of merchant that appeals to women than has been prepared locally for this week. From silk stockings slippers, lingerie, hose, to dresses, wraps, hats and gloves with scores of other accessories in between, the assortments are strikingly complete. Colors and designs are novel and beautiful but not bizarre and the lines of the newest costumes are gracefully artistic and lack the somewhat startling semi-enlist effects of past seasons. Both arbiters and critics of styles have unanimously agreed that this is to be distinctly a silk season and the retail merchandisers are apparently taking full advantage of that decision.

INJUNCTION GRANTED TO PROTECT EMPLOYEES.

A preliminary injunction was issued yesterday by Federal Judge Pocoran against the defendants in the case of the Houston, Stanwood & Gauble Manufacturing Company, Covington, against Frank Koester and twenty-three other defendants restraining the latter from using force, violence or threatening and abusive language towards any person employed by the company.

This order will stand until further instructions of the court are issued. The court explains that this order does not prevent the defendants from doing picket duty and carrying banners, and that the defendants may interview the employee. The complainant company is required to furnish bond of $2,000.

More than twenty restaurants in greater New York are owned and run by Chinese.

Samuel J. Martin, Distric Game Warden of the Eighth District, returned to Lexington last evening from Flemingsburg, where he was called by the killing of a "crowned crane," a rare bird which had been killed near Turkey Run, Fleming county.

He caused the arrest of J. A. Lyons, one of the leading citizens of that county, on a charge of having the bird in his possession. Lyons testified that the bird was given to him by a boy who found it dead with a broken wing in a creek. Mr. Lyons, who resides at Mt. Carmel, took the bird to Flemingsburg and exhibited it to a number of business men. It measured six feet from tip to tip of its wings.

KENTUCKY STOCKMEN PLAN CONSOLIDATION OF ORGANIZATIONS

Purebred Live Stock To Be Stressed By Proposed Consolidation of All the Kentucky Organizations.

Louisville, March 4.—Steps to promote the raising of pure-bred live stock in Kentucky by the merger of all existing associations into the Kentucky Pure-Bred Live Stock Association were taken Wednesday at the association's annual session at the hotel Henry Watterson.

A committee appointed by C. E. Marvin, president, is expected to enter into negotiations with the organizations represented with regard to joining the state association. It was proposed that the payment of the membership fee for any organization would entitle a breeder to membership in all.

The intention of the organization is to strengthen the industry in Kentucky by offering prizes and premiums by promoting pure-bred pig and cattle clubs among boys and girls, and by distributing information about proper methods of breeding and selling.

Committees were appointed to confer with the Bourbon Stockyards Company today with regard to marketing conditions and with committee of the Kentucky State Fair concerning premiums. A banquet at the hotel at 6:30 o'clock last night marked the close of the session.

Election of directors resulted in the choice of the following men: R. H. Lillard, Lawrenceburg; B. A. Thomas, Shelbyville; W. R. Normann, Glen Dean; L. L. Hagan, Lexington; J. W. Mayes, Heikmann; W. B. Turley, Richmond; William Reid, Owensboro, and J. Lewis Letterie, Jefferson county.

The committee in charge of plans for the merger includes: Louis M. Lebus, Cynthiana, president of the Shorthorn Association; John Null, of Bardstown, Holstein Association; A. D. Bradshaw, Danville, Aberdeen-Angus Association; P. B. Gaines, Carrollton, Jersey Association; H. C. Marksley, Shelbyville; Louis Lee Hagan, Lexington, and R. D. Courtney, representing swine and sheep breeders.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS MUST REMEMBER BANQUET.

Sunday school workers are asked to keep in mind the Sunday school luncheon and conference of workers to be held at the First Baptist church Saturday, March 16th. Remember this is for all schools of all denominations.

There are over forty Sunday schools in Maysville and Mason county. With the pastor, superintendent and a leading worker from each school present there will be an array of Christian workers that should surely be able to plan something big for our city and county. Many of the smaller schools in the county are not in session during the winter months. Let not this keep their representatives from attending this meeting. The Mason County Sunday School Association is very desirous of getting in vital touch with every school, and with every community where there should be a school. If you are one invited don't fail to accept and be present.
